This material is intended to help you review the history of the United States as covered in this course. Each section is divided into units by time. Please don’t lose this handout.

Each unit is divided into the following sections:

Things to Know. These are broad topics from the time period about which you should be very well versed. You will have to research these using both your text and other materials. You should approach each of these as if you were going to have to write an essay or a justification or explanation of them. What facts, documents, persons, court cases, etc., could you use as evidence in this kind of discussion.

Key Terms & Concepts. You should be familiar with all of these and more. Use the index in your book, use encyclopedias or other reference materials, to make certain that all of these terms and concepts are yours.

Important Definitions. Again, you should know all of these in such a way that you can use them in writing about the time under study.

UNIT #1: DISCOVERY TO 1800

EXPLORATION AND COLONIZATION, 1492-1763

Things to Know:

1. Factors in the European Age of Exploration (15th and 16th centuries):
   - importance of trade with Asia
   - need for new routes
   - improvements in maritime technology
   - rise of nation-states

2. Major voyages of exploration and conquest:
   - explorers
   - dates of voyages
   - countries they represented and the results
   - consequences of first contact—Great Biological Exchange

4. Economic basis of colonies:
   - differences between New England, the middle colonies, and the southern colonies
   - role of agriculture, industry and trade

5. Colonial society:
   - labor force—indentured servants and slaves
   - ethnic diversity—Germans, Scots-Irish, Jews
   - status of women
   - relations between colonists and Native Americans
   - religious dimensions—religious conformity vs. Religious dissent
   - Puritanism
   - First Great Awakening

6. Relations with Great Britain
   - mercantilism and its early impact on the colonies
   - impact of events in England—Restoration (1660) and the Glorious Revolution (1688)
   - colonial political institutions—assemblies and governors
   - Anglo-French rivalry in North America—French and Indian War (Seven Years’ War)

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

Antinomianism
An interpretation of Puritan beliefs that stressed God’s gift of salvation and minimized what an individual could do to gain salvation; identified with Anne Hutchinson.

Enumerated articles
Under the English navigation Acts, those commodities that could be shipped only to England or other English colonies; originally included sugar, tobacco, cotton, and indigo.

First Great Awakening
Religious revival movement during the 1730s and 1740s; its leaders were George Whitefield and Jonathan Edwards; religious pluralism was promoted by the idea that all Protestant denominations were legitimate.

Great Migration
Settlement of over twenty thousand Puritans in Massachusetts Bay and other parts of New England between 1630 and 1642.

Half-way Covenant
In 1662, Puritans permitted the baptized children of church members into a “half-way” membership in the congregation and allowed them to baptize their children; they still could not vote or take communion.

Headright system
Method of attracting settlers to Virginia; after 1618, it gave fifty acres of land to anyone who paid for their own passage or for that of any other settlers who might be sent or brought to the colony.

Indentured servants
Individuals who sold their labor for a fixed number of years in return for passage to the colonies; indentured servants were usually young, unemployed men and could be sold.

Joint-stock company
The company sold shares of stock to finance the outfitting of overseas expeditions; colonies founded by joint-stock companies included Jamestown (Virginia Company) and New Amsterdam (Dutch West India Company).

Mercantilism
Economic policy that held that the strength of a nation is based on the amount of gold and silver it has; also, that the country needs a favorable balance of trade and that colonies exist for the good of the mother country as a source of raw materials and a market for manufactured goods.
Middle passage  The sea route followed by slave traders from the west coast of Africa to the Western Hemisphere.

Proprietary colony  A colony founded as a grant of land by the king to an individual or group of individuals; Maryland (1634) and Carolina (1663) were proprietary colonies, as was Pennsylvania (1681).

Puritans  Dissenters who sought to “purify” the church of England from within and who initially populated much of New England.

Separatists  Those who wanted to break all connections with the Church of England as opposed to most Puritans who believed it was possible to reform the church; the Pilgrims were Separatists.

Triangular trade  Trade pattern that developed in the colonies; New England shipped rum to the west coast of Africa in exchange for slaves that were sent to the West Indies for molasses that was sold in New England.

THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, 1763-1787

Things to Know:

1. British Empire in North America in 1763:
   - debts resulting from wars with France and increased cost of administering the colonies
   - western land issues—Pontiac’s Rebellion and the Proclamation Line of 1763

2. Britain’s attempt to exercise greater control over the colonies and increase revenues:
   - policies of Grenville and Townshend
   - reaction of the colonies, particularly evidence of greater unity
   - debate on relations between Britain and the colonies—rights of Englishmen vs. Virtual representation and Declaratory Act

3. The American Revolution:
   - Key political and military events of the American Revolution, 1775-1783
   - Change in attitude on independence
   - Social consequences of revolution—slavery, status of women
   - Growth of religious toleration

KEY TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Pontiac’s Rebellion  Bunker Hill
Proclamation of 1763  Trenton and Princeton
Paxton Boys  Oriskany
North and South Carolina Regulators  Benedict Arnold
Letters of a Farmer in Pennsylvania  Saratoga
Samuel Adams  Treaty of Alliance (1778)
Sons of Liberty  Savannah

Committees of Correspondence  western land claims
Thomas Jefferson  Land Ordinance of 1785
Patrick Henry  Northwest Ordinance
Continental Association  Shays’ Rebellion
Lexington & Concord  Robert Walpole
Ticonderoga  Salutary neglect
Olive Branch Petition

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

Committees of Correspondence  First established in Boston in 1772, the committees became a way for the colonies to state and communicate their grievances against Great Britain.

Critical Period  Term used by historians to describe the United States under the Articles of Confederation.

Direct tax  British-imposed tax directly on the colonies that was intended to raise revenue; the Stamp act was the first attempt by Parliament to impose a direct tax on the colonies.

Enlightenment  A European intellectual movement that stressed the use of human reason.

Indirect tax  A measure that raised revenue through the regulation of trade—the Sugar Act, for example.

Loyalists  Also known as Tories, the term refers to those Americans who remained loyal to Great Britain during the Revolution.

Natural rights  Those rights that the Enlightenment (and Jefferson’s Declaration) saw as inherent for all humans and that government is not justified in violating.
Non-importation agreements  A form of protest against British policies; colonial merchants refused to import British goods.

Virtual representation  The British argument that the American colonies were represented in Parliament, since the members of Parliament represented all Englishmen in the empire.

Whig ideology  Idea that concentrated power leads to corruption and tyranny; emphasis on balanced government where legislatures check the power of the executive.

Writs of Assistance  General search warrants employed by Britain in an effort to prevent smuggling in the American colonies.

“No taxation without representation”  The assertion that Great Britain had no right to tax the American colonies as long as they did not have their own representatives in the British Parliament.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE FEDERALISTS, 1787-1800

Things to Know:

1. The Constitution:
   - major compromises of the constitutional convention—representation, slavery, election of the president
   - principles embodied in the constitution—separation of power and checks and balances
   - ratification—federalists vs. Antifederalists
   - amendments to the constitution

   The Structure Of The Government Under The Constitution

Article 1: Legislative Branch (Congress)

House of Representatives: Members elected for two-year terms; number of representatives for each state based on population; all revenue bills originate in the House; power to impeach.

Senate: Two senators from each state, chosen by state legislatures; serve six-year terms; Vice President is President of the Senate and votes only in the event of a tie; tries all impeachment cases; ratifies treaties and confirms appointments.

The President’s veto of a law passed by Congress can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Principal powers of Congress (enumerated powers): Collect taxes; regulate foreign and interstate commerce; coin money; establish post offices and post roads; declare war; raise and support army and navy; make all laws necessary to carry out above (“necessary and proper” clause).

Limitations on Congress: Cannot prohibit importation of slaves prior to 1808; cannot suspend the writ of habeas corpus; cannot enact bill of attainder or ex post facto laws.

Article 2: Executive Branch (President and Vice President)

President: Elected for four-year term; elected by electors from each state; the candidate who receives second higher total of the votes becomes Vice President.

Powers of the President: Commander-in-chief of army, navy, and state militias; makes treaties and appointments of ambassadors, executive departments, and Supreme Court with “advice and consent of the Senate.”
Article 3: Judicial Branch (Supreme Court)

Supreme Court established; Congress given authority to create inferior courts; Supreme Court has original jurisdiction in cases involving ambassadors and the states; in all other cases, the Supreme Court has appellate jurisdiction; trial by jury is provided for, and treason is defined.

Article 4: Relations with States

Position of states and territories; each state will give “full faith and credit” to acts and court actions of the states; privileges and immunities of citizens in the states; fugitive slave provision; Congress shall control territories and admit new states; government to protect states from foreign invasion or domestic violence.

Article 5: Amendment Process

Amendments proposed by two-thirds vote of Congress or applications by two-thirds of state legislatures; amendments ratified by three-fourths of state legislatures.

Article 6: Supremacy Clause

The Constitution, laws passed by Congress, and treaties entered into by the United States are the “supreme law of the land”; no religious test for holding office.

Article 7: Ratification of the Constitution

Ratification of the Constitution requires nine of the thirteen states.

Amendment 1 (1791): Freedom of religion, speech, press, and assembly; right of petition.
Amendment 2 (1791): Right to bear arms (militia).
Amendment 3 (1791): Limit on quartering of troops.
Amendment 4 (1791): Protection against unreasonable search and seizure.
Amendment 5 (1791): Due process; double jeopardy; self-incrimination.
Amendment 6 (1791): Right to speedy trial.
Amendment 7 (1791): Trial by jury in civil cases.
Amendment 8 (1791): No excessive bail or fine; no cruel or unusual punishment.
Amendment 9 (1791): People retain rights.
Amendment 10 (1791): Powers not delegated to United States are reserved to the states or the people.
Amendment 11 (1798): States cannot be sued by individuals.
Amendment 12 (1804): Electoral College
Amendment 13 (1865): Abolition of slavery.
Amendment 14 (1868): Equal protection under the law, post-Civil War definition of citizenship.
Amendment 15 (1870): Right to vote guaranteed irrespective of race, color, or former condition of slavery.
Amendment 16 (1913): Income tax.
Amendment 17 (1913): Direct election of senators.
Amendment 18 (1919): Prohibition.
Amendment 19 (1920): Women gain the right to vote.
Amendment 20 (1933): End to lame-duck session of Congress; change in when President and Congress take office.
Amendment 21 (1933): Repeal of prohibition (18th Amendment).
Amendment 22 (1951): Two-term limit for President.
Amendment 23 (1961): Voting for President in the District of Columbia.
Amendment 24 (1964): Abolition of poll tax in national elections.
Amendment 26 (1971): Lower voting age to eighteen.
Amendment 27 (1992): Election must come between the time a law is passed increasing the pay for Senators and Representatives and the time when that law goes into effect.

2. Washington as President:
   - development of the Cabinet
   - economic problems facing the early Republic and Hamilton’s response
   - relations with Great Britain and France

3. Rise of political parties:
   - election of John Adams
   - issues that led to Republican opposition
   - relations with France and the Alien and Sedition Acts and Republic response
   - Jefferson and the “Revolution 1800”

KEY TERMS AND CONCEPTS

- Virginia Plan
- New Jersey
- Connecticut Compromise
- 3/5 Compromise
- census
- Federalists
- Antifederalists
- Federalist Papers
- Alexander Hamilton
- John Jay
- James Madison
- Bill of Rights
- Judiciary Act of 1789
- Executive departments—State, Treasury, War, Attorney General
- Bank of the United States
- Strict/loose construction
- protective tariff

- Jay’s Treaty
- Pinckney’s Treaty
- XYZ Affair
- John Adams
- Democratic-Republicans
- Alien and Sedition Acts
- Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions
- Aaron Burr
- election of 1800

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

- Antifederalists: Opposed to a strong central government; saw undemocratic tendencies in the Constitution and insisted on the inclusion of the Bill of Rights. Included Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe, and Patrick Henry.

- Checks and Balances: System embodied in the Constitution through which the power of each branch of government is limited by the other; the President’s authority to veto legislation and Congress’s power to override that veto are examples.

- Compact theory: The idea advanced by Rousseau, Locke, and Jefferson, that government is created by voluntary agreement among the people involved and that revolution is justified if government breaks the compact by exceeding its authority.

- Confederation: A political system in which the central government is relatively weak and member states retain considerable sovereignty.

- Enumerated powers: Powers specifically given to Congress in the Constitution; including the power to collect taxes, coin money, regulate foreign and interstate commerce, and declare war.

- Factions: Political groups that agree on objectives and policies; the origins of political parties.

- Loose construction: Constitution is broadly interpreted, recognizing that it could not possibly anticipate all future developments; relies on the idea of implied powers and the “necessary and proper” clause. Both views on how to interpret the Constitution came up during the debate on chartering the Bank of the United States in 1791.

Separation of powers
The structure of the government provided for in the Constitution where authority is divided between the executive, legislative, and judicial branches; idea comes from Montesquieu’s Spirit of the Laws.

States rights
According to the compact theory of the Union the states retained all powers not specifically delegated to the central government by the Constitution.

Strict construction
The principle that the national government is legally granted only those powers specifically delegated in the Constitution.

Tariff
A tax on imports (also referred to a “duty), taxes on exports are banned by the Constitution. A “protective” tariff has rates high enough to discourage imports.

UNIT #2: 1800 - 1877

JEFFERSONIAN AND JACKSONIAN DEMOCRACY, 1800-1840

Things to Know:

1. Jefferson as President:
   - attitude toward Federalist programs
   - Louisiana Purchase and reaction to it
   - foreign policy and neutral rights

2. The Supreme Court under John Marshall:
   - major cases and significance of decisions

KEY DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT UNDER JOHN MARSHALL:

3. Presidencies of James Madison and James Monroe:
- foreign policy background and results of the War of 1812 and the Monroe Doctrine (1823)
- economic nationalism—development of national transportation system and tariff policy
- shift from cottage industry to factory system

4. The Age of Jackson:
- election of 1824—"corrupt bargain"
- political view of Democrats
- strong executive—veto as instrument of political power
- Second Bank of the United States
- nullification crisis
- Indian policy—Indian Removal
- Whig party

KEY TERMS AND CONCEPTS

| Judicial Act of 1801 | National Road |
| midnight judges     | Erie Canal    |
| judicial review      | Adams-Oñis Treaty |
| Lewis & Clark Expedition | Monroe Doctrine |
| Embargo Act of 1807  | Noah Webster  |

| Hartford Convention  | Webster-Hayne debate |
| Rush-Bagot Agreement | Independent Treasury Act |
| factory system       |                |

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

- American System Economic program advanced by Henry Clay that included support for a national bank, high tariffs, and internal improvements; emphasized strong role for federal government in the economy.

- Corrupt bargain Refers to the claim from the supporters of Andrew Jackson that John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay had worked out a deal to ensure that Adams was elected President by the House of Representatives in 1824.

- Embargo An attempt to withhold good from export in order to influence the policies of the former purchasers.

- Era of Good Feelings Refers to the period after the War of 1812 during the presidency of James Monroe, when competition among political parties was at a low ebb.

- Impressment British practice of taking American sailors from American ships and forcing them into the British navy; a factor in the War of 1812.

- Internal improvements Included roads, canals, railroads; essentially, an internal transportation network that would bind the country together.
Judicial review  The right of the Supreme Court to declare a law passed by Congress unconstitutional; the principle was established in Marbury v. Madison, but was original sketched out in Hamilton’s essay #78 in The Federalist Papers.

Kitchen cabinet  Informal group of friends who advised Jackson during his administration. Jackson believed that the “official” Cabinet’s main function was to carry out his orders.

Missouri Compromise  Compromise worked out by Henry Clay in 1820: slavery would be prohibited in the Louisiana territory north of 36°30’; Missouri would enter the Union as a slave state, Maine would enter the Union as a free state.

Monroe Doctrine  a United States policy that sought to insulate the Western Hemisphere from European intervention.

Nullification  The theory advanced by John Calhoun in response to the Tariff of 1828 (the Tariff of Abominations); states, acting through a popular convention, could declare a law passed by Congress “null and void”; the roots of the idea go back to Jefferson and Madison’s compact theory of government and are originally spelled out in the Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions.

Pet banks  A term used by Jackson’s opponents to describe the state banks that the federal government used for new revenue deposits in an attempt to destroy the Second Bank of the United States; the practice continued after the charter for the Second Bank expired in 1836.

Spoils system  Essentially, political patronage; public offices went to political supporters during Jackson’s presidency.

War Hawks  Those nationalist members of Congress who strongly supported war with Great Britain on the eve of the War of 1812; included Henry Clay and John C. Calhoun.

Whig Party  A national political coalition formed to oppose the Jacksonian Democrats.

SECTIONALISM AND EXPANSION, 1840 - 1860

Things to Know:

1. Rise of Sectionalism:
   ➢ economic issue—industrial North vs. agricultural South
   ➢ immigration and nativism
   ➢ slavery and sectionalism—Missouri Compromise
   ➢ slavery in the territories after the Mexican War—Compromise of 1850

2. Manifest Destiny:
   ➢ Texas independence and the issue of annexation
   ➢ election of James Polk—Texas and Oregon as issues
   ➢ acquisition of Oregon
   ➢ war with Mexico—Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo

3. Intellectual and cultural trends:
   ➢ rise of an American literature—major writers
   ➢ major reform movements—abolitionists
   ➢ temperance
   ➢ women’s rights
   ➢ utopian communities
rise of public education

KEY TERMS AND CONCEPTS

cotton gin  Mexican cession
Nat Turner’s rebellion  Gadsden Purchase
American Colonization Society  Edgar Allan Poe
Elias Howe  Nathaniel Hawthorne
Irish potato famine  Herman Melville
Know-Nothing party  Henry David Thoreau
Wilmot Proviso  Walt Whitman
popular sovereignty  Dorothea Dix
Free Soil party  William Lloyd Garrison
Stephen Douglas  Frederick Douglass
Compromise of 1850  Sarah Grimke
Fugitive Slave Law  Elizabeth Cady Stanton
Webster-Ashburton Treaty  Lucretia Mott
Mormons  Seneca Falls Declaration of Sentiments
Joseph Smith  Horace Mann
Brigham Young  Harriet Beecher Stowe
Treaty of 1846  Dred Scott decision
Texas independence

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

Abolition  A moral crusade to immediately end the system of human slavery in the United States.

Civil disobedience  Intentionally breaking or defying the law to call attention to what is believed to be evil or injustice.

Freeport Doctrine  The position on slavery taken by Stephen Douglas during the debates with Lincoln in 1858. Slavery could not exist if local legislation did not accept it. Douglas refused to say whether he believed slavery was right or wrong.

Kansas-Nebraska Act (1854)  Created two new territories with slavery decided by popular sovereignty; it effectively repealed the Missouri Compromise as it applied to slavery north of the Compromise line.

Nativism  Response to the increased immigration in the 1840s, it reflected a fear that the United States was being taken over by foreigners. Nativism found a political expression in the American party, also known as the Know-Nothing party, which was founded in 1854 on a program of controlling immigration and requiring a longer naturalization period; the party was strongly anti-Catholic.

Popular sovereignty  Proposed by Senator Lewis Cass, it meant that the decision to permit slavery in a territory was up to the territorial legislature; it was incorporated into the Compromise of 1850 for New Mexico and Utah territories.

Romanticism  An intellectual movement that stressed emotion, sentiment, and individualism. A reaction to rationalism and the classical revival.
Transcendentalism  American expression of the Romantic movement that emphasized the limits of reason, individual freedom, and nature; best represented by Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau, the author of Walden and Civil Disobedience.

“Bleeding Kansas”  The virtual civil war that erupted in Kansas in 1856 between pro-slavery and free soilers as a consequence of the Kansas-Nebraska Act.

“Fifty-four forty or fight”  Political slogan of the Democrats in the election of 1844, which claimed fifty-four degrees, forty minutes as the boundary of the Oregon territory claimed by the United States. The Treaty of 1846 with Great Britain set the boundary at the forty-ninth parallel.

“Free soil”  The idea surfaced after the Mexican War that Congress had the authority to ban slavery in the newly acquired territories. It was embodied in the Wilmot Proviso. The advocates of “free soil” formed their own political party in 1848, and Martin Van Buren was their candidate for President.

CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION, 1860-1877

Things to Know:

1. Outbreak of the Civil War
   - pattern of secession after Lincoln’s election
   - relative strengths and weaknesses of the North and South at the outbreak of the war

Presidential Reconstruction  Put forward by Andrew Johnson, it included repeal of ordinances of secession, repudiation of Confederate debts, and ratification of the Thirteenth Amendment. By the end of 1865, only Texas had failed to meet these terms.

Radical Reconstruction  Provided for dividing states into military districts with military commanders to oversee voter registration that included adult African-American males for state conventions; state conventions to draft constitutions that provided for suffrage for black men; state legislatures to ratify the Fourteenth Amendment.

Scalawags  Term used to describe Southern white Republicans who had opposed secession.

Sharecropping  Common form of farming for freed slaves in the South; received a small plot of land, seed, fertilizer, tools from the landlord who decided what and how much should be planted; landlord usually took half of the harvest.

“Ten-Percent Plan”  Lincoln’s Proclamation of Amnesty and Reconstruction (December 1863) provided that new state government could be established in the South when ten percent of the qualified voters in 1860 took an oath of loyalty.

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

Atlanta Compromise
Start of a debate over the best course for African-Americans. Booker T. Washington believed that African-Americans should focus on economic self-improvement rather than civil rights or social equality.

Agrarian malaise
Discontent among farmers, resulting from changes in their economic position after the Civil War. They sought help from states and the federal government, thus abandoning the doctrine of laissez-faire.

Closed shop
A factory or place of business that employs only union members.

Craft unions
Labor organizations whose members were skilled workers in a particular craft—for example, carpenters, masons, or cigar makers. The American Federation of Labor was composed of individual craft unions.

Dawes Act (1887)
Changed the reservation system by granting 160 acres and U. S. Citizenship to native American heads of families who agreed to give up their tribal allegiance.

Gilded Age
The name applied to the 1870s and 1880s during which national politics was characterized by party rivalries, the spoils system, and unregulated business competition. The term comes from the title of a novel written by mark Twain and Charles Dudley Warner.

Jim Crow laws
Laws that enforced segregation by discriminating against and suppressing black people.
Long vs. short haul  The railroad practice to charge higher rates on lines where there was no competition than on routes where several lines were operating. This often meant that the cost of shipping goods a short distance was greater than over a long distance.

Mugwumps  Reform Republicans who refused to support James Blaine, the party’s candidate in the election of 1884.

Political machine  A vote-gathering organization of politicians who loyally support a party boss and get the votes in their neighborhoods to support their party’s candidates by fulfilling needs and providing services to constituents.

Social Gospel  Religious response to the problems created by industrialization and urbanization in the late nineteenth century; supporters of the Social Gospel supported child labor laws, civil service reform, and control of the trusts.

Stalwarts and Half-Breeds  Factions in the Republican party that emerged by 1880; the Stalwarts, led by Senator Roscoe Conkling, supported the spoils system, while the Half-Breeds claimed to represent the idea of civil service reform.

Trust  A form of business organization in which a group of corporations in the same industry gave their stock in the individual companies to a board of trustees in return for stock certificates that earned dividends. The trust effectively eliminated competition by giving control to the board. The earliest example is the Standard Oil trust that controlled ninety percent of the oil refineries and pipelines.

Turner Thesis  The historian Frederick Jackson Turner argued that the frontier was the key factor in the development of American democracy and institutions; he maintained that the frontier served as a “safety valve” during periods of economic crisis.

“Crime of ‘73”  Through the Coinage Act of 1873, the United States ended the minting of silver dollars and placed the country on the gold standard. This was attacked by those who supported an inflationary monetary policy, particularly farmers, and believed in the unlimited coinage of silver.

“Rum, Romanism, and Rebellion”  An insult made against New York Irish-Americans by a Republican clergyman in the 1884 election; Republican candidate James Blaine’s failure to repudiate this statement lost him New York and contributed to his defeat by Grover Cleveland.

THE UNITED STATES AT HOME AND ABROAD, 1896-1920

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

100 days  Period from March to June 1933 when Congress passed major legislation submitted by Roosevelt to deal with the Depression.

Bonus Army  Unemployed World War 1 veterans who came to Washington in the spring of 1932 to demand the immediate payment of the bonus congress had voted them in 1922. The veterans were forcibly removed from Anacostia Flats by federal troops under the command of Douglas MacArthur.

Court packing proposal  In the wake of Supreme Court decisions that declared key pieces of New Deal legislation unconstitutional, Roosevelt proposed increasing the number of justices. If a justice did not retire at age seventy, the President could appoint an additional justice up to a maximum of six.

Deficit spending  The English economist John Maynard Keynes proposed that governments cut taxes and increase spending in order to stimulate investment and consumption. The effect was to increase the deficit because more money was spent than was taken in.

Deflation  A reduction in available currency and credit that results in a decrease in the general price level.

Hoovervilles  Shanty towns that the unemployed built in the cities during the early years of the Depression; the name given to them shows that the people blamed Hoover directly for the Depression.

Lost Generation  Term coined by Gertrude Stein to describe American expatriate writers of the 1920s; include T. S. Eliot, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, and Stein herself.

Recession  A moderate and temporary decline in the economy.
Roaring Twenties  Popular image of the decade as a period of prosperity, optimism, and changing morals; symbolized best by the “flapper.”

Sick Chicken Case  In Schechter Poultry v. U. S., the Supreme court struck down the National Industrial Recovery Act as unconstitutional. The decision encouraged Roosevelt to consider ways to change the makeup of the court.

Subsidy  Monetary assistance by a government to a person, group, or commercial enterprise.

Welfare state  A social system whereby the state assumes primary responsibility for the economic and social well-being of its citizens.

“Return to Normalcy”  Campaign theme of Warren Harding during the election of 1920; it reflected the conservative mood of the country after the constant appeals to idealism that characterized both the Progressive Era and Wilson’s fight over the League of Nations.

“Share the Wealth”  Program of Huey Long that proposed the redistribution of income of the rich to give every American a guaranteed annual income of $2,000 to $3,000, old-age pensions, money for a college education, and veterans benefits.

AMERICA AT WAR, 1941-1945

Things to Know:

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

Brinksmanship  The policy associated with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that stressed that Soviet aggression would be met by massive nuclear retaliation; Dulles was opposed to simply “containing” the USSR and wanted to liberate the countries under Soviet control.

Containment  American foreign policy adopted after World War 2 to restrain the expansion of the Soviet Union. It was based on the belief that the USSR does not take risks and would back down if faced with determined opposition. The policy was developed by Foreign Service officer George Kennan in 1947.

Detente  Policy toward the USSR developed by President Nixon and Henry Kissinger focused on easing tensions through negotiations, particularly on arms reductions—for example, the first Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT) in 1972.

Eisenhower Doctrine  The United States was prepared to use force in the Middle East against aggression from any country controlled by the Soviet Union (1957).

Military-industrial complex  In his farewell address in 1961, Eisenhower warned of the danger posed by a strong defense industry and the armed forces; despite his own background, Eisenhower wanted to control military spending.

Shuttle diplomacy  Henry Kissinger’s diplomatic efforts in the Middle East in early 1974 led to the withdrawal of Israeli troops from the west bank of the Suez Canal and disengagement between Israel and Syria on the Golan Heights.

Summit diplomacy  Meetings between world leaders, usually the United States and the Soviet Union, to discuss bilateral issues and matters of mutual concern—for example, nuclear disarmament; the first summit conference took place in 1944 in Geneva.

Truman Doctrine  In response to the Greek Civil War in 1947, the United States provided economic and military aid to both Greece and Turkey. The United States would support “free peoples” against armed minorities or outside pressure.

Vietnamization  President Nixon’s policy of withdrawing troops from Vietnam and turning the fighting over to the South Vietnamese with massive amounts of American supplies.

  Southern Democrats who bolted the party following the adoption of a civil rights plank at the 1948 convention; ran Strom Thurmond as their candidate in 1948 as the States’ Rights party.

- Fair Deal
  President Truman’s domestic policy (1948) that included civil rights and an extension and enlargement of the New Deal—health insurance, federal aid to education, public housing, and repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

- Great Society
  President Johnson’s domestic program that included Medicare, civil rights legislation, the War on Poverty; funding for the programs suffered because of the costs of the Vietnam War.

- Modern Republicanism
  Represented by President Eisenhower, it combined acceptance of the basic features of the New Deal with a conservative economic policy, particularly controlling government spending.

- New Federalism
  President Nixon’s program to return power and tax dollars to the states and cities; the key aspect was revenue sharing, which distributed $30 billion in revenues to the states.
Stagflation: High inflation combined with high unemployment and a declining gross national product; used to describe economic condition of the country in the mid-1970s.

Supply-side economics: President Reagan’s economic policy; reduction in taxes would give people more spendable income and in turn lead to business expansion and more jobs. The policy did increase the federal deficit.

Warren Court: Under Chief Justice Earl Warren (1953-1969), an activist Supreme Court became an important instrument of social and political change, particularly in the areas of civil rights and civil liberties.
